DETAILED ACTION

Claims 21 and 22 recite "use of" which are directed to non-statutory inventions under U.S. law. For purposes of restriction, these claims will be read as a method of preparing a medicament, or pharmaceutical composition.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 11 and 12, drawn to an Rhor polypeptide.

Group II, claim(s) 13-18, 20, drawn to a polynucleotide encoding an Rhor polypeptide, vector and host cell comprising said polynucleotide and a method of producing said polypeptide recombinantly.

Group III, claim(s) 19, drawn to kit for detecting susceptibility to baldness.

Group IV, claim(s) 21 and 22, drawn to method of preparation of medicament to treat baldness.

Group V, claim(s) 23 and 24, drawn to method for treating baldness.

The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Strausberg et al. (2002 PNAS 99:16899-16903) teach generation of more than 15000 full-length human and mouse cDNA sequences, among them a sequence with 100% identity to SEQ ID NO:2 (See enclosed alignment, sequence submitted May of 2003 to EMBL/GenBank/DDBJ). Therefore, the first claimed invention does not constitute a contribution over the prior art and does not have a special technical feature. Thus, the first claimed invention cannot share a special technical feature with the other claimed inventions.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
